

OKLAHOMA CITY NATIONAL MEMORIAL MUSEUM RANKS IN TOP 25 MUSEUMS IN THE U.S.

The Oklahoma City National Memorial Museum now ranks in the top 25 Museums in the United States, according to an announcement by TripAdvisor today.

"This year's award winning museums serve as an inspiration for travelers wanting to join the trend and discover some of the world's finest collections of art, science, culture and history," said Brooke Ferencsik, Senior Director of Communications for TripAdvisor, announcing the 2018 winners of its Travelers' Choice Award for Museums. TripAdvisor is the largest travel review site in the world.

Award winners are determined using an algorithm taking into account the quantity and quality of reviews for museums worldwide, gathered over a 12-month period. Memorial Museum visitors comments include "Good Place to teach Teens the importance of non-violence!" and "...it was a thought provoking and humbling experience. I highly recommend that you visit if you have the opportunity."

"We are honored the Oklahoma City National Memorial Museum is part of this impressive list. We never take the visitor's experience for granted," said Kari Watkins, Executive Director, Oklahoma City National Memorial & Museum. "Remembering and teaching this event make us as relevant today as ever."
